

PRIVACY COLLECTION NOTICE – MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS

Cura Day Hospitals Group Pty Ltd (ACN 125245409) ("Cura", "we", "us", "our") and its subsidiaries collect personal information about individuals for a range of purposes to enable it to carry out its functions. We may collect your personal information when you apply to be Accredited to practice at a Cura facility and during your period of Accreditation.

Cura's privacy policy is available at www.curagroup.com.au. If you would prefer a printed version, please let us know by contacting us on 07 3218 3700. Further details about the collection of your personal information are provided below.

Who is collecting your personal information

Your personal information is being collected by Cura Day Hospitals Group Pty Ltd (ACN 125245409) (Cura) and its subsidiaries wherever located within Australia.

The contact details for Cura are:

Street address: Boundary Court, 55 Little Edwards Street, Spring Hill QLD 4004;

Telephone: (07) 3218 3700.

Collection of your personal information

We may collect the following personal information directly from you (such as when you apply for Initial Accreditation, Extraordinary Accreditation or Re-Accreditation as a Medical Practitioner under the Cura By-Laws) including:

- your name and contact details
- details about your professional qualifications, history and experience

We may collect personal information about you from a third party, such as:

- from your referee
- from a criminal history check undertaken with your consent
- from a professional registration board's public register
- from the relevant Cura facility about the care you provide to patients, including as recorded in the medical record
- from patients about the care you have provided
- other publicly available sources.

Purposes for collection

As a health service provider, we are required to collect and keep professional and education information about you as required by law and under the "Clinical performance and effectiveness" standard issued by the Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care. We also collect information to monitor the safety of services provided to our patients by Accredited Medical Practitioners.

Why does Cura collect your personal information?

We collect your personal information to assess your suitability or Accreditation at a Cura facility and to maintain safe, high quality health care services.

What would happen if Cura did not collect your personal information?

If Cura does not collect your personal information we will not be able to assess your suitability to become Accredited as a Medical Practitioner at a Cura facility, or grant access to you to operate on or admit patients for treatment at one or more of our facilities.

Who will Cura disclose your personal information to?

We disclose your personal information to a third party for the purpose of processing your application to be accredited at Cura, managing our business and complying with our legal obligations. For example, to:

- members of the Credentialing Committee at any Cura facility considering your application;

-
- members of the , Medical Advisory Committee or external experts to monitor the quality of services or respond to an adverse event;
 - Government departments and private health insurers to process rebates and payments;
 - Regulators to comply with mandatory reporting obligations.

We also disclose your personal information to our professional advisors and service providers, including AI system service providers.

Access to and correction of your personal information	Our privacy policy contains information about how you may access and seek correction of personal information about you that Cura holds.
Privacy complaints	Our privacy policy contains information about how you may complain about a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles and how Cura deals with complaints.
Overseas disclosure of your personal information	It is unlikely that Cura will disclose personal information to entities outside of Australia.

By signing the below, you agree that:

1. You have read and understood the Privacy Policy and Privacy Collection Notice; and
2. You consent to Cura collecting, using, and disclosing your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Collection Notice.

Name: _____

Signature: _____

Date: